Homeland Security and Emergency Management for Lawyers, Policy Makers, and Executives: Lessons from the Katrina Catastrophe

The Center for American and International Law presents a multi-disciplinary program on disaster management and preparedness. This program is chaired by Otto Hetzel and Ernest Abbott, co-editors of A Legal Guide to Homeland Security and Emergency Management for State and Local Governments (American Bar Association 2005). A copy of this book, which retails for more than $90, is included with each registration. The program will be held at the Intercontinental Hotel in downtown New Orleans, Louisiana. The sessions will be of interest to lawyers representing both the public and private sectors, governmental policy makers, and executives from private industry and critical infrastructure operators.

Focusing on lessons to be learned from experiences with Hurricane Katrina, this program is designed to help lawyers and leaders from government and the private sector better prepare for future catastrophes. It is co-sponsored by the International Municipal Lawyers Association and is presented in cooperation with the American Bar Association's Section on State and Local Government Law and the ABA Section on Administrative Law and Regulatory Practice. A guided tour of areas impacted by Hurricane Katrina will be included in the program.
